Re: Kraiem v. JonesTrading Institutional Services, LLC., et al.
19-cv-5160 (ALC)(SDA)

Dear Mr. Bergman:

We are writing regarding your May 26, 2023 ESI Letter that identified a list of custodians and search terms that Plaintiff provided in connection with Plaintiff's First Request for the Production of Documents dated March 31, 2023 ("Plaintiff's RFP"). Defendants' objections to Plaintiff's lists of custodians and search terms are as follows:

- Search 1:

Plaintiff requested "all electronic documents" for Nefissa Kraiem. Defendants object to this request as overbroad and unduly burdensome. Defendants further object to this request as it is not limited by date or search terms and is likely to result in documents that are already in Plaintiff's possession, custody or control. Without waiving the foregoing objections, Defendants will search for documents responsive to Plaintiff's document requests but will not produce "all electronic documents" for Nefissa Kraiem.

- Search 2:

Plaintiff's second search request included 125 different search terms for 8 different custodians. The custodians include William "Packy" Jones; Alan Hill; Steve Chmielewski, Tim O'Neil; David Mazzullo; Shlomo Cohen; Gary Cunningham; and Mary Moser.

Defendants object to the scope of Plaintiff's request as overbroad, unduly burdensome, and unlikely to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence. Not only is the number of search terms requested unduly burdensome, but many of the search terms are simply not relevant to the subject matter of this action or to the claims and defenses of any party to this action.

Without waiving the foregoing objections, Defendants have run the requested searches for each custodian and the searches resulted in approximately 110,000 documents, including family and related documents. These results support Defendants contention that the scope of Plaintiff's request is overbroad, unduly burdensome, and unlikely to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence.

To avoid the need for Court intervention, Defendants propose (i) removing search terms that are not relevant to the subject matter of this action and (ii) narrowing terms that result in over 1,000 documents or are likely to produce non-responsive documents. Below is a chart with Plaintiff's proposed terms, Defendants' search result, and Defendant's proposed action:

Search 3:

Plaintiff's third search request included 117 different search terms for 17 different custodians. The custodians include Jeff LeVeen, John Martinelli, Jeffrey Sloves, Charlie McBride, Yousef Abbasi, Philip Rosato, Darren Yarlett, John D'Agostini, Marc Altmann, Jake Cole, Simon Pearce, Janson Simpson, Marc Edwards, Alex Cohen, Katie O'Connor, Jason Lavender, and Elly Gibbs.

As with Search 2, Defendants object to the scope of Plaintiff's request as overbroad, unduly burdensome, and unlikely to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence. Not only is the number of search terms requested unduly burdensome, but many of the search terms are simply not relevant to the subject matter of this action or to the claims and defenses of any party to this action. For example, custodian Alex Cohen was no longer employed by JTIS as of January 1, 2016, the time period covered by Plaintiff's document requests. Thus, any communications or documents maintained by JTIS would not be responsive to Plaintiff's requests.

Without waiving the foregoing objections, Defendants have run the requested searches for each custodian and the search results in over 85,000 documents, including family and related documents. Notably, these search results are in addition to the 110,000 documents in Search 2. These results support Defendants' contention that the scope of Plaintiff's request is overbroad, unduly burdensome, and unlikely to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence.
